Dear Friends

As part of our 70th anniversary we're putting in some additional productions and we're delighted to announce that the first of these will be Edward II by Christopher Marlowe which is being directed for us by Ian Guy and will be performed, 'in the round', in St Michael's Church in Alphington. Performance dates are 15th-17th May with curtain up at 7.30pm.

Edward Longshanks, Edward I is dead and his weak and ineffectual son is now Edward II. His first command is to recall from exile in France his favourite, Piers Gaveston, an action that proves unwelcome amongst the Barons and the Bishops. With rebellion brewing, the royal marriage falling apart and the different factions taking sides armies are raised and the executioner's axe is wielded freely.

Please book your seats using the form below and come along and see us in St Michael's, Alphington to witness Love, Lies, Treachery and Death!
