Dear Friends

We now travel to the west coast of Ireland for our next play as we present The Lieutenant of Inishmore by Martin McDonagh. This, our September production, is being directed for us by Ranulf Oliver with performances on 25th-27th with our usual curtain up time of 7.30pm out at Longdown.

The small village of Inishmore is reeling after the death of Wee Thomas, the beloved cat of Padraic, a violent psychopath deemed too mad to remain a member of the IRA! He's away in Northern Ireland for some recreational torturing and bombing of fish and chip shops when he gets the 'phone call and moves heaven and earth to get back determined to find his cat's murderer and, naturally, chaos ensues!!

The play, although a black comedy, does not shy away from such topics as nationalism, violence and terrorism and does contain some 'spicy' language but, if you can cope with the occasional 'gobshite' and regular use of the word 'Feck', you'll have a great evening. But please leave those with a delicate disposition or under the age of 12 at home with a mug of cocoa. For the rest of you, please book your seats and your pasties for this riveting drama on the slip below. Pasty munchers please note that they will now sell at £2.50 each.
